ACCOMMODATION & WELFARE

There are a range of accommodation options available and WIE can help you find accommodation that best suits your preferences.

Please note that students under the age of 18 MUST live with a WIE homestay or a caregiver appointed by the student's parents or legal guardian. This is a requirement of the Code of Practise.

HOMESTAY

Homestay is the best option to improve your English quickly and experience the New Zealand way of life with an English-speaking family. We choose friendly and supportive host families whose homes are comfortable and safe for you to live in and all WIE host families have agreed to abide by the conditions of the Code of Practise for the Pastoral Care of International Students.

In a homestay you live with a local family where you have your own fully-furnished room. Breakfast, lunch and dinner for under 18 and breakfast and dinner for over 18, are provided. General expenses such as power and water are included in the homestay fees, but internet and phone expenses are not included.

Homestay Fees

Homestay fees can be located on our website https://wie.nz/enrolment/fees-payments/

Homestay fees are payable FOUR weeks in advance and there is a non-refundable placement fee of $200.

A minimum of FOUR weeks advance notice is required if you would like WIE to arrange a homestay for you.

If you want to change your homestay or move out, you need to tell the homestay coordinator at least TWO weeks in advance.

Homestay Coordinator

WIE's homestay coordinator will arrange a suitable family for you to live with and is available to offer support and homestay-related advice to students.

If you have any issues regarding your host family, please talk to the homestay coordinator (see Student Support Staff on page 4). Most often the problem is because of miscommunication and we are happy to help sort it out.

Call (07) 838 2450 or email homestay@wie.nz.

If you have asked WIE to arrange your homestay, WIE is responsible for your:

- Homestay accommodation.
- Ongoing support during your homestay including 24-hour emergency contact.
- > General assistance with your host family.

At the completion of your stay in your homestay family, you will be asked to complete a questionnaire. The feedback provided is important so we can assess your host family's ability in dealing with students.

OTHER ACCOMMODATION OPTIONS

Backpackers

Backpacker hostels offer a friendly environment where you have the chance to meet other tourists. They are best suited for short-term stays since they do not offer much privacy for study and are usually more expensive per week than homestay accommodation.

The price starts at $40 per person per night, which does not include meals but there are many food outlets nearby if you don't want to cook your own food. Cooking, laundry and bathroom facilities are generally shared.

There are several good backpackers within walking distance to WIE, including:

The Eagles nest: http://eagles-nest-backpackers-hostel.northislandnz.net/en/ Backpackers Central: www.backpackerscentral.co.nz/

Motels

Motels are a lot like hotels but much cheaper and usually have more cooking facilities. Prices vary depending on the quality and location of the motel but generally range from $105 - $200 per room per night.

There are many motels close to the city, just search online for Motel+Hamilton+CBD.

Apartment/Townhouse

Suitable for both long-term and short-term stays, these generally come fully-furnished and are close to the city centre. Choose from studio apartments, one-bedroom apartments and two-bedroom townhouses.

Rent is usually paid two weeks in advance and a bond is usually required as a deposit (equal to approximately 3 - 4 weeks rent).

Contact WIE to ask for recommendations.

LIVING WITH A HOST FAMILY

New Zealand is a multicultural country and homestay families come from a diverse range of cultural backgrounds.

Family structures are not limited to the traditional model. For example, there are couples without children, single mothers with children, and retired couples.

Host families choose to host international students for various reasons. Many homestay families are interested in having cross-cultural interaction, while others decide to host as they wish to 'internationalise' their children by exposing them to other cultures. Many elderly couples host to have company, as their children have left home.

All host families arranged by WIE have been police checked and their homes have been checked to ensure they are suitable and welcome place for international students to live.

Being a member of the family

Your host family will accept and treat you as a member of the family, rather than a guest. Please be considerate and accommodating of your host family's lifestyle and any house rules that they may have.

Show initiative in helping out around the house with little chores. It's a great way of initiating interaction and learning about the New Zealand culture.

Please remember to always be polite and say "please" when asking for something, and "thank you" when something has been done or given to you.

Pets

Over 75% of households in New Zealand have pets. This is partly because space is not an issue in New Zealand and most people have a backyard. Pets are generally treated as members of the family and are usually allowed in the house.

We do our best to accommodate students with strong reasons for not wanting to live in a household with pets (e.g. an allergy or a phobia).

Heating

Your room will be fitted with some form of heating e.g. a heater or an electric blanket. Please use the heating with consideration and do not have it on during the day, as it does increase the power bill over the winter months.

Laundry

Some host families will be happy to wash your laundry, but it should not be expected and some families will show you how to do it yourself. It is best to check with your homestay family how the laundry is done in the house.

Showering

Showering is more common than bathing in New Zealand. It is important you DO NOT have long, hot showers as this will cost a lot of electricity.

Please limit your showers to maximum of 10 or 15 minutes. Some homes have a tank water system where the supply of hot water is limited so, please be considerate.

Valuables

While in New Zealand, please store your valuables including your passport and flight ticket in a safe place (probably best to keep them locked in your suitcase).

Internet

It is ILLEGAL to download music and movies off the internet in New Zealand and there are laws which mean you can be fined if you are caught downloading. Because of this, WIE host families are not required to provide internet to students, although some choose to offer it for an extra fee.

We recommend students purchase a USB modem stick, which can be plugged into your laptop. You can buy a modem stick for $70, which includes 3GB of data.

If your host family does provide you with internet access, please respect them by not using it for downloads.

Privacy

Please respect the privacy of family members. It is customary to knock on a door if the door is closed, before entering a room.

Telephone

Phone calls and other communication costs are not included as part of the homestay fee. If you would like to use your host family's phone, you need to ask first.

Remember to ask your family before using their phone, even if you are paying for the call.

Meals

Meals in New Zealand are likely to be quite different. They may include more meat than you are used to. Tell your homestay family if you are finding the meals too big, too small, too spicy, etc.

Also remember to tell your homestay family about any food that you don't eat or are allergic to.

Breakfast is generally self-served. Your homestay family may tell you to help yourself. Lunch and dinner also is provided by your host family (depending on age). Your family may prepare lunch for you or you may be asked to prepare it yourself.

If you are eating out with your host family, please offer to pay for yourself.

Going Out/Inviting Friends over

If you are going out, please advise your host family where you are going and approximately what time you will be home. Your host family knows that you are in a new country and will be concerned if they don't know where you are.

If you are going to invite friends' home, please ask your host family first.

Electrical Appliances

Please ask your homestay family how to use electrical appliances such as the microwave, and the oven.

If you are planning to bring electrical items you will need an adaptor and/or transformer.

Please remember it is rude to turn off the television or change channels when other family members are watching. If there is a special program on television that you wish to watch, please ask your family before changing channels.

THE CODE OF PRACTICE

The New Zealand government wishes to ensure international students living in New Zealand have an enjoyable and worthwhile study experience.

For this reason, the Code of Practice for the Pastoral Care of International Students was created by the New Zealand Ministry of Education as an agreement with education providers to ensure that providers take responsibility for the wellbeing of their international students.

WIE has agreed to observe and be bound by this code, which means that we have promised you will be safe, well informed and properly cared for.

A copy of the code is available from our office, in the student common room; or you can read it on the New Zealand Qualification Authority's website: http://www.nzqa.govt.nz

If there is something about the Code that you do not understand please talk to WIE's Student Liaison, who will be happy to explain it to you.

If you think Waikato Institute of Education has not kept its promises under the Code of Practice, talk to the Student Liaison about the issue. If this does not satisfy you, you can make a formal complaint to WIE, using the procedures we have in place; please ask at Reception.

After talking with a WIE staff member, if you are still not satisfied with the way in which your matter has been dealt with, there are more formal processes available and these options can also be discussed with you.

SUMMARY OF THE CODE

Introduction

When students from other countries come to study in New Zealand, it is important that those students are well informed, safe and properly cared for.

New Zealand educational providers have an important responsibility for international students' welfare.

The following provides an overview of the "Code of Practice for the Pastoral Care of International Students" (the Code) and provides a procedure that students can follow if they have concerns about their treatment by a New Zealand educational provider or agent of a provider.

THE CODE OF PRACTICE

New Zealand education providers have an important role in ensuring the well-being of their international students. The Code sets out the minimum standards of advice and care that are expected of education providers for international students. This ensures students coming from other countries to study in New Zealand are well informed, safe, and properly cared for.

New Zealand defines international students as those that are not domestic students.

There is further information about this on the New Zealand Ministry of Education website at www.education.govt.nz.

The New Zealand Qualifications Authority (NZQA) is the administrator of the Code on behalf of the New Zealand Government.

WHO DOES THE CODE APPLY TO?

All education providers in New Zealand who enrol international students must be a signatory to the Code and adhere to its requirements.

A list of education providers that have signed up to the Code is available on the NZQA website at www.nzqa.govt.nz.

WHAT CAN YOU EXPEECT OF AN EDUCATION PROVIDER?

Students and their families can expect education providers to:

- Provide clear, sufficient and accurate information so you can make informed choices about your education
- Give your clear, understandable information on your legal obligations and rights, including refund policies, and termination of your enrolment under any contacts you enter into with the provider
- Check that you have the prescribed insurance cover
- Provide a safe and supportive environment for study
- As far as practicable, ensure you live in accommodation that is safe and appropriate
- Provide you with a comprehensive orientation programme to support you in your study and outline your obligations
- Monitor their agents to ensure they provide you with reliable information and advice

about studying, working and living in New Zealand

- Ensure that the educational instruction on offer is appropriate for your expectations, English language proficiency, and academic capability
- Have proper policy and processes in place to safeguard students' fees paid and be able to provide and appropriate refund id you withdraw or your course closes.
- Ensure you have access to proper and fair procedures for dealing with grievances (Concerns or complaints).

HOW CAN I GET A COPY OF THE CODE?

You are encouraged to read the Code, which is available on the NZWA website is several Languages.

If you have further questions about the Code you can email code.enquiries@nzqa.govt.nz

What do I do if something goes wrong?

If you have concerns about how your education provider or an agent is treating you, you should first contact your provider and follow their grievance procedure.

Educaiton providers must have an internal grievance procedure to listen to and deal with any concerns or complaints to ensure a fair result. They will have designated a person who you can talk to and who will advise you on how to address your concerns or complaints. This may be the principal or the International student director.

If the provider's grievance process does not address your concerns or complaints, you can contact:

- NZQA (for concerns and complaints about a provider breaching the Code) or
- iStudent Complaints (for concerns and complaints about money for contracts)

IS YOUR COMPLAINT ABOUT A PROVIDER BREACHING THE CODE?

As the Code administrator NZQA has the legal authority to investigate potential breaches of the Code. It has a process for finding out if the concern or complaint is valid and if a provider has breached the Code. This includes getting information from both the student who has raised the concern or complaint and the education provider.

For information about how to make a complaint see the NZQA website http://www.nzqa.govt.nz/about- us/make-a-complaint/make-a-complaint-about-a- provider/ iStudent Complaints is an independent service provided by the New Zealand government that can help you resolve concerns and complaints that are about money or contracts with an education provider. The service is free.

You can contact iStudent Complaints in a few ways:

Red, yellow and black are the region's colours and fans will often dress in these colours to support the local teams during sports events, particularly Rugby.

Hamilton

Hamilton's population of nearly 178,000 makes it the fourth largest city in New Zealand and it is also the second fastest-growing population after Auckland.

Hamilton is one of the most multicultural cities in NZ, with more than 80 ethnic groups. Hamilton's population is 63.6% NZ European, 23.7% Māori, 18.5% Asian, 6.1% Pacific Peoples and 2.2% Middle Eastern, Latin American and African. The city offers a multi-cultural mix of cafes, pubs and restaurants that contribute to an exciting night life.

Sports are highly popular in Hamilton, with both rugby games and cricket matches well attended. Hamilton was chosen to host the Rugby World Cup in 2011 and the Cricket World Cup in 2015.

Hamilton's main attraction is the Hamilton Gardens, which is an alternative to traditional botanical gardens and draws tens of thousands of visitors every year, and has won several international awards.

WEATHER

The weather in Hamilton is variable; often starting out with sunshine then suddenly turning to rain, before turning back to sunshine. It is often said that Hamilton has four seasons in a day!

Daily maximum temperatures in Hamilton range from about 22° to 30 °C in summer and from 10° to 15 °C in winter. In winter, ground frosts are common in Hamilton but snow is extremely rare. Typically, summers are warm but humid while winters are cool and dry.

Being the only major inland city in New Zealand, Hamilton is colder during the night than places like Auckland and Tauranga, despite its lower elevation.

MAORI LANGUAGE

The Māori people make up about 17% of the population, so it is likely you will come across some Māori words and phrases while you are in New Zealand.

Being able to correctly pronounce Māori words is a valuable skill since incorrectly pronounced Māori will immediately identify you as a tourist. But don't worry if you can't...many New Zealanders struggle to correctly pronounce Māori words as well!

A number of Māori words have been adopted into everyday conversation and many place names are of Māori origin, so it is good to know a few common words, here are some words you might hear or read:

Haere Mai	Welcome
Kia ora	Hello/Thank you
Ka pai	Good
Hangi	Traditional Māori way of cooking food in the ground
Hongi	A formal Māori greeting, by gently pressing noses together
Aroha	Love
Wāhine	Woman/Women
Tāne	Man/Men
Kai	Food
Marae	Communal facility
Pākehā	European person
Tangi	Funeral (literally "to weep")
Tapu	Sacred
Whānau	Family

INTERACTING WITH THE LOCALS

New Zealand is a small country with a small population (5 million). The locals, informally called "Kiwis" (not to be confused with the native bird "the kiwi"), love the outdoors and are very friendly and quite casual in their manner towards each other and visitors.

New Zealanders do the following:

- Say 'please' when they want something and 'thank you' when they get it. It is considered rude if you do not say 'please' and 'thank you'.
- Say 'sorry' or 'excuse me' if they bump into another person by accident.
- Say 'hello' to people they have never met before on the street or in a shop.
- Make lines or queues when waiting for service. It is considered rude to push in and not wait your turn.
- New Zealanders do not spit in public places such as the street as this is considered rude.

New Zealanders are known to be friendly and interested in learning about other people's culture and society. They will ask questions about you, and they are happy for you to ask questions about them and about New Zealand in general.

There may be certain times where personal topics can be discussed quite easily, but privacy about personal matters is important and topics such as wages, age, a person's weight and how much people pay for things are not often discussed outside of family and close friends. Personal comments such as 'you are very fat', or 'you are too skinny' or 'his hair is grey' or 'that is not a nice dress' can be thought rude unless it is to a very close friend or family member who knows you well.

You may find New Zealanders to be reserved in some ways, as it is common to not display emotion or affection openly. When greeting friends and family, for example, a simple hello, sometimes a hug, is usually all that takes place, unless it has been a long time since they last met.

MEETING PEOPLE

New Zealanders usually shake hands (with the right hand) when meeting each other for the first time. Your handshake should be a firm, but not hard, grip and last for 3-5 seconds. Some family members give you a hug or kiss you on the cheek. It is their way of welcoming you and showing that they are pleased to meet you. Māori people may 'hongi', which is a custom of lightly pressing noses with you as they shake your hand.

When you want to meet with someone professional (e.g. a doctor or lecturer) you need to make an appointment in advance. On most occasions you will not be able to meet without organising a time first. If you are meeting someone or attending class it is very important to be on time, or a little early. When you visit New Zealanders at home it is expected that you would let the person know that you want to visit and what time you will arrive. When meeting friends or family it is OK if you are about 10 minutes late. If you know you are going to be later, it is polite to phone and let the person know when you expect to arrive. If you are tramping, walking or in a situation where there are very few other people, it is quite normal to say 'hello' or 'good morning' to strangers.

AT HOME

The average number of children in a New Zealander family is two or three. Most people live in modest houses with three or four bedrooms, one or two bathrooms and a small garden. Family customs and traditions vary from family to family. Generally, men and women share household tasks, cooking and bringing up children. Many mothers will work outside the home, drive and manage finances. In some families the chores men and boys do will be different from those done by women. Most people do their own cooking and cleaning, and it is very unusual to have servants. Many children in New Zealand leave their family homes when they start university or when they finish high school. It is common for young people to leave their family home before they are 20 years old.

SOCIALISING

Young people (over 18 years of age) often get together in pubs, bars or cafés to hang out. Restaurants and bars usually close between 9pm and 11pm during the week. During the weekend the closing hours are later. Tipping is not usually expected, as service charges are built into the price of food and drink. Tipping sometimes occurs at restaurants but payment of tips is by customer choice and is usually a reward for exceptional service.

Many New Zealanders like to socialise at home and cook a meal or host a barbeque for their friends. It's common practice to ask what you can contribute to the meal, if you are invited to a New Zealand home – chocolates, fruit, wine or a special food item are always gratefully accepted.

DRESS CODE

New Zealanders dress informally, comfortably and quite conservatively on most occasions. Dressing up for an occasion such as a wedding, special celebration or big party is common however, so it is a good idea to have at least one set of smart clothes for special times.

A TYPICAL DAY

The day in New Zealand generally starts at about 7am when most people get out of bed. The weekend is Saturday and Sunday, and often people will wake up later on these days. It is most usual to have a shower first thing in the morning and then have breakfast.

Breakfast usually consists of toast, porridge, cereal or eggs during the week and a cooked breakfast of bacon, sausages or pancakes on the weekends. During the weekdays, school starts at 9am and finishes at 3pm, the average work day starts at 8.30am and finishes at 5pm.

Lunch for most employees is one hour, taken some time between 12pm and 2pm. It is a light meal, often just a sandwich and some fruit. Many food outlets and cafés sell hot food during lunch time so it is rare for people to travel home for a large meal.

Families usually have dinner together sometime between 6pm and 8pm. It is common for kiwis to spend time together in the evening, talking or watching TV. Usually people go to bed sometime between 9pm and 11pm. In the countryside it may be earlier, as they usually wake at sunrise to get chores done first thing in the morning. In the weekends many people go out to visit friends, cafés, movies, bars or restaurants. It is usually only on weekends that people stay up late unless there is a special reason.

SHOPPING

Most shops are open between 9am and 5pm Monday to Friday. Some are open all weekend as well. In Hamilton, most shops are open seven days a week. There are three main shopping malls, Centreplace (located in the central city), The Base (located in Te Rapa) and Westfield (in Chartwell). Usually smaller shops and boutiques are closed on Sundays.

There is usually one night a week when shops are open late (usually until 9pm) so people can shop after school or work. Centreplace, The Base and Westfield are open until 9pm on Thursdays and The Base has some stores open until 9pm on Fridays. Supermarkets and other large shops have longer opening hours. In New Zealand people do not usually carry large amounts of cash with them. It is much more common to use EFTPOS and credit cards to pay for goods.

STUDENT DISCOUNTS

Having a student ID card gives you access to discounts at a wide range of shops and retailers, including clothes shops, CD outlets, stationery shops etc. Usually, the discount is about 10%. You need to ask whether the shop offers student discounts before you make your purchase. If it does, you will need to show your WIE student ID card to receive the discount. Student discounts are also available at cinemas, tourist attractions, concerts and for public transport.

RELIGION

New Zealand does not have an official state religion and freedom of religion is a cornerstone of New Zealand democracy. Although one third of population identify themselves as being Christian, many people do not practice religion or have a religious affiliation. New Zealand is made up of a variety of cultures so there are many other religions practised in New Zealand including Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism, Judaism and Sikhism.

DRIVING

If you are thinking of driving in New Zealand you need to check that you meet New Zealand's driving laws.

If you have an overseas driver's license or an international driving permit, you can drive in New Zealand for a maximum of one year. Note: you are only able to drive those types of vehicles you were licensed to drive in your own country.

If you plan to be in New Zealand for more than one year you must apply for a New Zealand driving licence before the end of your first year. You will have to pass a theory test and probably a practical driving test too.

You must carry your licence or permit with you whenever you are driving. If your overseas licence or permit is not in English then you are required to carry an official translation with you.

If you don't have an overseas driver's licence or an international driving permit, you must apply for a learner licence before you can drive any vehicle in New Zealand

NOTE: You can get more information about driving in New Zealand and New Zealand's driving laws by:

- Buying a copy of the Road Code. You can buy these in bookstores or from driver licensing agents. You can also borrow a copy of the Road Code from a Hamilton Public Library.
- Contacting the New Zealand Transport Agency on its website https://www.nzta.govt.nz/ or free phone 0800 822 422

BECOMING INDEPENDENT

If you've been living at home with your family before coming to New Zealand, it may take some time to adjust to independent living. Before you leave home think about the skills you may need for your new life in New Zealand and how to prepare yourself.

Study Independently and Manage Your Time

The style of teaching in New Zealand may be different from what you are used to. Everyone is expected to study independently. Independent study means that you are responsible for making sure that you are prepared for class, keeping up with your studies and completing all your course requirements. You can always ask for help. Most lecturers, tutors and student support staff are very happy to give you advice and answer any questions you have about your studies. However, it is your responsibility to ask for help and to do your studies. International students can find time management hard if they are used to a strictly regulated routine in their home country. You also need to make sure that you have a balanced life in New Zealand and manage your time so that you can keep up with your studies, find time to socialise and do recreational activities.

Budget/Manage Money

Another responsibility you will have is managing your money. Many international students have never had to buy their own food or clothes and pay for their own accommodation. You should try to set a budget and plan how and when to use your money so that you can meet all your costs.

CULTURE SHOCK

Adapting to a new place takes time. Many students go through a period of personal frustration or disenchantment with their new environment. This is known as culture shock and it's a normal part of adjusting to a new place.

Stages of Transition

Honeymoon

When you first arrive, you experience exhilaration, anticipation, nervousness, and excitement. This settling-in stage can last a few days, weeks, or months.

Hostility

By about the third month, it starts to frustrate you that people don't understand you. You may be having trouble understanding others. You feel frustrated or depressed that it's so difficult to get things done. You find yourself wishing that things could be as they were at home. These feelings will fade as you gain confidence.

Acceptance

After about six months, you start to appreciate the differences between your home country and your new environment. Your sense of humour returns and you feel more balanced. The minor mistakes and misunderstandings that would have frustrated you before make you smile or laugh now.

Adaptation

Eventually, you begin to feel at home in your new environment and find greater satisfaction – personally and academically.

Coping with cultural transition

Give yourself time to adjust. Some things that help students make a transition:

- Get involved in clubs and activities to meet new people and make friends.
- Write letters, send emails, or call friends and family back home; these connections will help you feel grounded.
- Manage your stress by staying healthy; eat well and get enough sleep and exercise.
- Talk with other students about your experiences, sharing stories helps!

> Talk to one of the Student Liaisons.

SMOKING & ALCOHOL

- The legal age for drinking and smoking in New Zealand is 18 years old.
- You may be asked for proper ID when purchasing cigarettes and/or alcohol.
- ALL indoor areas are smoke free (nonsmoking) and you cannot smoke within ten metres of a building in most public areas.
- Drinking alcohol in public places is limited to licensed areas such as pubs and restaurants.

COMMUNICATION CHANNELS

Should you have any issues or wish to discuss something about your host family or any other difficulties you are having, WIE staff are available for appointments during office hours (8.30am – 5pm, Monday to Friday). Please visit Reception to see one of the student support advisors.

TRANSPORT

Your host family will advise you how to commute to WIE. Ask your homestay family to write the instructions on paper, step by step.

Do not forget to carry essential contact details (WIE, your host family) with you in case you get lost.

Public Transport

Hamilton has a public bus system where all bus routes run into the central city bus station. Most routes run twice every hour during the day.

With a Bee Card card, the fare for students is $2.40 per trip (ticket can be used more than once within 1 hour of issue).

You can top up your bus card and pay for your fare on the bus when you board. Get on at the front door of the bus and get off at the back door.

Some bus services do not operate late at night, and may also provide limited service on weekends.

Taxis

If you are travelling late at night on your own it is best to use a taxi. Free phone 0800 477 477 from your mobile to call a taxi to any address in Hamilton.

Walking alone at night

This is best avoided, even though New Zealand is still regarded as a safe country.

Seatbelts

By law, all passengers in the vehicle must wear seatbelts.

Hitch hiking

DO NOT hitch hike under any circumstances, it is dangerous.

Bicycle

In New Zealand, bike riders must wear a helmet and ride on the road, not on the footpath, and at night you must have lights on your bicycle.

Calling Host families

Some host families may be happy to pick you up, however please do not expect your homestay family to provide transport for you.

MEDICAL & INSURANCE

Should you have any issues or wish to discuss something about your host family or any other difficulties

Medical Insurance

It is the responsibility of every international student to ensure that they have valid medical insurance at all times. If you do not organise this yourself, you can ask WIE to buy an insurance policy on your behalf.

If you have an accident or are sick, you will need to pay for the consultations and any medication/treatment up front. Then you can make a claim to get a refund, if your insurance covers it. If WIE arranged your insurance, bring your receipt to school and we can help you.

Accident / Sickness

If you are ill or injured while at home you will probably be taken by your host family to their local Doctor. Pay for the visit yourself, then use the receipt to make a claim to your insurance company.

If the Doctor prescribes medication, take your prescription to the chemist. Non-prescribed medicine can be purchased over the counter from any chemist.

The standard fee for a visit to the Doctor is usually $90 - $120. You will need to pay this then submit a Claim to your Insurance Company to get your money back.

Dangers and Annoyances

Most of the people you will meet in New Zealand are very friendly. Remember it is all right to say no and walk away if someone approaches you with a suggestion which you do not like or do not want to do.

If you are home alone in your homestay and a stranger comes to the door, do not open the door and let them in. Go to a window to see who it is.

Under New Zealand law, you do not have to open the door unless it is the police.

If you feel uncomfortable or threatened while you are on campus, talk to a WIE team member about the situation as soon as possible.

If you feel uncomfortable or threatened in your homestay, contact WIE immediately: 022 104 8705.

Please give your mobile number to your host family so they can keep in contact with you. Remember to keep your phone charged and topped up with credit.

FINANCIAL

Travellers Cheques

Most retailers in NZ do not accept Travellers Cheques. You will be required to show ID (e.g. passport) when cashing Travellers Cheques.

Credit Cards

Credit cards can be used to make purchases and to withdraw cash from ATM machines. Please note that the interest rate on credit cards is usually very high.

Some smaller shops don't take credit card but most chain stores and large shops will. The most widely accepted credit cards in New Zealand are Visa, MasterCard and American Express.

ATM

Normally ATMs are accessible 24/7 in New Zealand. You can withdraw cash from $20 up to around $500 on your credit card or EFTPOS card.
